ONLINE LEARNING

In addition to the learning events, practitioners can access online learning - via Olive and free of charge - on a wide variety of subjects, such as:

- human trafficking and modern-day slavery
- neglect
- Domestic Abuse
- child sexual exploitation
- gangs and youth violence
- family network meetings
- self-harm
- abuse related to beliefs in witchcraft
- unconscious bias
- bullying and cyberbullying
- online safety risks to children
- sexual abuse and recognising grooming
- substance misuse
- suicide awareness

CareKNOWLEDGE

Furthermore, practitioners have access to the CareKNOLWEDGE platform, the learning resources available there as well as the four communities of practice on neglect, domestic abuse, child exploitation and children with SEND. We strongly encourage practitioners to utilise this free resource to access good quality learning resources but more importantly for the unique opportunity it offers for online networking, peer learning and support. Please register for a free members' account to access the communities of practice and the online content of the platform. The SCSA will arrange for new user and refresher workshops and dates for these will be published on Olive in autumn 2021.

Finally, the SCSA is developing several digital products to supplement and enhance the existing learning offer. Information on these will be available upon completion via the SCSA and SSCP communications channels.
